

RAFFLES HOTEL

RAFFLES
SINGAPORE

Raffles Through Time

First opened on 1 December 1887, Raffles Singapore was a 10-room bungalow, leased by the Sarkies Brothers who hailed from Armenia. The bungalow was formerly owned by Arab trader Mohamed Alsagoff. Over the decades, as the hotel expanded, its hallowed halls have played host to the rich and famous, including Charlie Chaplin, Somerset Maugham, Elizabeth Taylor and Karl Lagerfeld.

It also made its mark in local society, being the address where the last tiger in Singapore was killed, the birthplace of the iconic Singapore Sling and the place to countdown into the New Year with its gala ball in the lobby.

The Restored Raffles Singapore

Raffles began another chapter in its illustrious history in 2019 – writing the stories of the future with a careful and sensitive restoration to breathe new life into our beautiful building. With enhanced comfort and splendour for the discerning traveller, we invite guests to immerse in our striking architecture, heritage and graceful service for that unique feeling of being somewhere very special. Experience Raffles' charming ambience and legendary service while enjoying newly opened and signature bars, restaurants, courtyards, and social spaces; all designed to make Raffles the place to meet, spend time, shop and celebrate.

Look forward to innovative and modern in-suite technology touchpoints with redesigned bathroom facilities and amenities, as we retain our signature colonial architecture and views of verdant gardens. Enjoy exciting dining concepts including our signature Singapore Sling experience along with refreshed recreational facilities and a new Raffles Spa.

The stellar team of Raffles Butlers is on call 24/7, ready to accede to every request and suggest how to best enjoy the hotel and Singapore.
